

THE PROTECTION CASE for GDI Vibration Activated and Rotating Shaft Meters

With the new and patented ProtectionCase for GDI Vibration Activated and Rotating Shaft Meters it is now possible to monitor tough equipment where it never has been done before. The ProtectionCase comes with a Meter from GDI and offers new features for your products.

Untracked expensive attachments burn holes in your wallet:
Missed service periods shorten the lifecycle of your equipment.
The ProtectionCase expands the lifecycle of your machinery.

Service intervals, timers and more can be checked on the LCD display (standard or custom programming possible).
Professional maintenance is the key to a successful product performance!

Profit from the safe and resistant housing that the ProtectionCase offers to the GDI meters. It prohibits and limits the way of cheating, the meter cannot be taken out without detection and at the same time you can control and monitor your operating data.

The ProtectionCase for GDI Vibration Activated and Rotating Shaft Meters is ideal for your products:

- harrows
- drilling machinery
- ploughs
- harvester
- field cultivators
- rolling machinery
- ...

Share equipment without hassle!
The safe and secured locking and solid protection of the meter makes the cost sharing easy and trustfull.

The protection case brings the hour meter right at the spot of action. Therefore you can monitor hours and more where it has never been possible before!
